

My Gallery Visit

This is Abington Art Center.

Abington Art Center shares its building with Parks and Recreation, Old York Historical Society, and Chabad.

Abington Art Center has art classes, art galleries, and a sculpture park.

This is Abington Art Center's front desk. This is where I can ask questions about Abington Art Center and join art classes.

My Gallery Visit

The front desk can be found by going through the orange door and following the signs.

These are Abington Art Center's bathrooms. They can be found in the hallway at the front of the building or next to the front desk.

This is where I will go, if I need to use the bathroom.

Let's discuss together: You are coming to visit Abington Art Center soon. Why?

My Gallery Visit

Sometimes I get excited.
When I feel excited, I like to make noise.

People come to art galleries to quietly look at the artwork and think.

If I make noise in an art gallery,
it will distract those who want to look at the artwork and think.

When I am visiting an art gallery,
I will talk quietly.

My Gallery Visit

Some artwork looks fun to touch.

If I touch the artwork, I could damage it.

This will make the artist who made this artwork very sad.

When I am visiting an art gallery, I will hold my hands and only look at the artwork.

My Gallery Visit

I love making art!
Playing with materials is fun.

I will be making artwork with my friends.

If I am not careful, I could break the materials.
No one will be able to make art if the materials can't be used.

When I am using materials to make art,
I will be careful and share with my friends.
